

Spellbinding fun!

WIZARDS, warlocks and witches had a magical day when they took over the classroom at Horbury Bridge J&I School last week.

Pupils' dreams of becoming fairytale characters came true when Make a Wish Entertainment of Horbury trained them in the art of magic making during a three-day workshop.

At the end of the three-day sessions, fairy finishing touches were made and each child taking part received an award declaring that they remain wizards and witches and that they use their wands wisely.

Actress and theatre director of Make a Wish, Suzanne Vaughan, said: "It was a great day working with the children. Children enjoy meeting our fairytale characters and working with them on their chosen activity.

"Our events are usually delivered by one of our magical characters who lead all participants on a magical journey exploring many different lands and meeting many magical people on the way.

"Make a Wish Entertainment prides itself on providing enchanted experiences for children. We have a range of magical characters and various activities for children to choose from.

MAKING MAGIC: Wizards academy at Horbury Bridge school. Pictured, from left, are: Pollyanna Swan, Enchantia, of Make a Wish Entertainment, Maisee Bottomley, George Sturdy-Clow, Molly Cramton, Emily Chapman and Isabel Gill. w6122a644

"This activity was all part of "Through a series of spell- and games.

our aim to create interactive binding fun activities, games theatre, where everyone gets and tasks, the students joined each pupil compiled a special academy workbook. When they children chose the story and we celebrated autumn in style through have completed all tasks in their crafts, singing, drama, dance workbook they graduated from the Witches and Wizards Academy and gave them a special academy "T-shirt."

Suzanne can be contacted at suzanne@makeawishentertainment.co.uk